The Continuing Relevance of डॉ. बाबासाहेब (आंबेडकर)

Every year on Ambedkar Jayanti, India pays tribute to the life and ideas of B. R. Ambedkar, a visionary leader who played a crucial role in shaping modern India. His contributions as the chief architect of the Constitution of India and as a tireless social reformer laid the foundation for a democratic society based on justice, equality, and dignity.

Dr. Ambedkar dedicated his life to challenging social discrimination and advocating for the rights of marginalized communities. His powerful message of “Educate, Agitate, Organize” continues to inspire people, especially students, to seek knowledge, question injustice, and work towards a more equal society.

CLOSING A CHAPTER, CELEBRATING A LEGACY

VOICES OF OUR ALUMNI

Yash Bhat, TYBCA

As I stand at the edge of completing my BCA journey, my heart feels heavy yet full—heavy because I am leaving behind a place that became my second home, and full because of the countless memories it has given me.

These three years were not just about studies, assignments, or exams... they were about living every moment to the fullest. Being a part of college events, especially serving as the Digital Committee Head, was one of the most unforgettable experiences of my life. The excitement, the chaos, the teamwork, the late preparations, and the joy when everything came together perfectly—those moments taught me responsibility, leadership, and the true meaning of collaboration.

The industrial visit to Nainital was another beautiful chapter. Away from classrooms, surrounded by friends and laughter, those days were pure happiness. Every small moment—from traveling together to enjoying the scenic beauty—became a memory I will cherish forever.

I feel incredibly lucky to have studied in what I truly believe is the best college, with the best faculties. I will always be grateful to Ankit Sir, Rashmi Mam, and Shilpa Mam for their constant support and encouragement.

A special thanks to Purna Mam, Kavitha Selvi Mam, and Pooja Mam for guiding us not just academically, but for life. Their words and advice will stay with me long after college ends.

I am also deeply thankful for the blessings and kindness of respected Seema Bakliwal Mam and our respected Principal Sharadkumar Sir, whose leadership and vision shaped our journey.

This college didn't just give me a degree—it gave me memories, confidence, friendships, and a direction in life. As I move forward, a part of my heart will always remain here.

These three years were not just unforgettable—they were truly magical.

My journey here has been truly enriching and transformative, both academically and personally.

From the very beginning, the college provided me with a supportive and motivating environment that encouraged me to grow beyond textbooks. The BBA program has helped me develop a strong foundation in business concepts, while also enhancing my practical knowledge through presentations, projects, and interactive sessions. The faculty members have always been approachable, guiding us not just in academics but also in shaping our confidence and communication skills.

One of the most memorable aspects of my journey has been participating in various college activities and events. These experiences have helped me step out of my comfort zone, improve my teamwork abilities, and discover my strengths. Being part of such a vibrant and active college life has made learning more enjoyable and meaningful.

Bakliwal College has also given me opportunities to build valuable friendships and connections that I will cherish for a lifetime. The positive atmosphere, combined with continuous encouragement from teachers and peers, has played a significant role in my personal development.

As I reach the final year of my BBA, I feel grateful for all the knowledge, experiences, and memories I have gained here. This journey has not only prepared me for my professional career but has also helped me grow as an individual.

Three Wonderful Years at Bakliwal Foundation, Vashi

My three years at Bakliwal Foundation, Vashi, as a BACS student have been filled with learning, growth, and unforgettable memories. Looking back, I am grateful for the experiences and opportunities that helped shape who I am today.

Living in Bandra and travelling to Vashi every day was a journey in itself. While the commute was long, it became a part of my routine that I genuinely enjoyed. Some days I travelled by train, and on special occasions, I rode my bike to college, making the journey even more exciting. Every trip to campus brought new experiences and memories.

One of the best parts of college was the friendships I made. From lectures and projects to events and everyday conversations, my friends made these years truly special.

I am especially thankful to our faculty members, including Rani Ma'am, Purna Ma'am, and many others, whose guidance and support played a significant role in my academic and personal growth. Their encouragement motivated us to strive for excellence and make the most of every opportunity.

A major milestone in my journey was securing my first internship through a college opportunity. It was my first step into the professional world and gave me valuable industry exposure. The experience boosted my confidence and helped me understand how the skills learned in college could be applied in real-world situations.

Another highlight of my college life was serving as the Design Co-Head of the Newspaper and Magazine Committee. Along with my three fellow co-heads, I had the opportunity to contribute creatively to the college publications. Working on designs, coordinating with the team, and ensuring that every edition reflected the spirit of our college was both challenging and fulfilling. This role enhanced my creativity, leadership abilities, and teamwork skills.

These three years will always hold a special place in my heart, and I will forever cherish the journey that began with a daily commute from Bandra and ended with unforgettable memories that will last a lifetime.

Anjali Kandu, TYBACS

My journey at Bakliwal Foundation College has been one of growth, learning, leadership, and self-discovery. When I joined the B.A. Civil Services course in my first year, I was a shy student with limited confidence in my abilities. While I had aspirations and dreams, I was still searching for the courage to believe in myself and step beyond my comfort zone.

Bakliwal Foundation College became the platform that transformed me. The unwavering support of my teachers, the positive environment, and the opportunities provided by the institution helped me grow both personally and professionally. One of the first significant opportunities I received was participating in YIN (Young Inspirators Network) during my first year, which gave me immense exposure and broadened my perspective.

My efforts and growth were recognized when I was honored with the "Promising Star" award in my first year. This recognition motivated me to work harder and contribute more actively to college life.

In my second year, I took on multiple leadership roles as the Head of NSS, Secretary of the Student Council, Co-Head of the Arts Association, and Article Writer for NAMC. These experiences taught me leadership, teamwork, communication, and responsibility. During this year, I was also honored with the title of "Versatile Personality," which reflected my involvement across various academic, cultural, and social activities.

The most memorable chapter of my journey came in my third year when I was selected as the President of the College and Head of NAMC. Leading my peers and representing the student community was both a privilege and a learning experience. The crowning moment of my college life was receiving the prestigious "Student of the Year" award, a recognition that symbolized the culmination of years of dedication, perseverance, and growth.

Beyond awards and positions, the true essence of my journey lies in the friendships I built, the memories I created, and the invaluable guidance I received from my teachers and mentors. Bakliwal Foundation College has not only educated me but has shaped me into a confident, responsible, and compassionate individual.

As I move forward in life, I carry with me the values, lessons, and unforgettable experiences that this institution has gifted me. I will always remain grateful to Bakliwal Foundation College for believing in me, nurturing my potential, and helping me become the person I am today.

Sakshi Bajrang Choudhari, TYBBA

A Journey of Growth and Gratitude

College is not just about earning a degree; it is about discovering yourself, building lifelong memories, and growing into the person you aspire to be. My journey at Bakliwal Foundation College has been exactly that.

When I first joined the college, I was an average student with big dreams but limited confidence. Over the years, this institution helped me grow into a confident individual and a leader. From being selected as the Class Representative (CR) for the Marketing class to securing second and third ranks during my graduation, every achievement motivated me to aim higher.

One of the most rewarding experiences was serving as the Head of the Digital Committee, where I learned leadership, teamwork, and creativity. Later, becoming the Design Editor-in-Chief of the Newspaper and Magazine Committee gave me the opportunity to design the college newspaper and contribute to the NAMC Magazine—an experience I will always cherish.

Beyond the positions and achievements, the true essence of my college life lies in the friendships I made, the events I participated in, the lessons I learned, and the memories I created. Every opportunity, challenge, and success helped shape me into a better version of myself.

I am deeply grateful to Bakliwal Foundation College for believing in me, providing opportunities to grow, and preparing me for the future through guidance, support, and placement opportunities. Though these days will never come back, the memories and lessons will stay with me forever.

Thank you, Bakliwal Foundation College, for making this journey so special and unforgettable.

Beyond the Ballot: Finding My Voice in the Newsroom

For me, a three-year college degree was never about chasing a perfect GPA or sitting at the top of the academic rank list. While the lectures provided the background noise, my true education happened inside the busy rooms of the college newspaper and magazine committee. That was where my real college experience came alive.

I started my first year as an eager, active member, just trying to find my footing. By my second year, I stepped into the inner circle as a core member, eventually rising to Co-Head. In my final year, I took the reins as the Head of the committee. It wasn't just a title; it was a crash course in leadership, deadline-driven chaos, and creative problem-solving.

The newsroom became my launchpad. I found myself stepping out from behind the editorial desk and onto the stage, hosting major campus events and commanding the microphone. My role also pushed me past my own committee's borders, collaborating frequently with other student groups to bring massive campus projects to life.

Looking back at these three years, the lectures may fade, but the thrill of a successful print run and the adrenaline of hosting a live event never will. I might not have been the class topper, but by running the stories, driving the collaborations, and finding my voice, I gained an education that no textbook could ever teach.

Team NAMC, 2025-2026

As we present the final edition of this academic year, the Newspaper and Magazine Committee extends its heartfelt gratitude to everyone who contributed to making each edition a success. From covering memorable events to sharing inspiring stories, this journey has been truly rewarding. Thank you to our faculty, contributors, and readers for your constant support. We look forward to creating many more memories in the years to come.
